First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

Having funerals is an important part of our humanity. When families choose to have a funeral Mass, for example, it is a gift to allow family, friends, and neighbors to gather to honor the life of the person. Sometimes people are nervous because the feeling of grief is sometimes scary and uncomfortable.

In the Gospels, we see Jesus experience grief, as we all do. It can lead us to understand that there is real love or connection to the person that has died. I remember when there were only three television stations in the country, yet the country would watch a moon landing, a Muhammad Ali fight, a victory celebration as well as a tragedy of death or destruction. The next day, the entire country would talk, process, and share our experiences. Today there are too many distractions for the country to experience something together, both joyful and sorrowful.

To those who might be wondering if funerals really do matter or if it is worth it, I hope we can see it as a gift to those who loved the person. We remember that funerals are signs of hope that we will again see our loved one in God's kingdom. Funerals are not meant to be joyless, hopeless, or depressing. They are reminders that even in our sadness God is with us. We know that one day Christ will destroy even death itself.

Something to think about when we lose someone we love or know.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Christian Disciples in Mission, Living Beyond Sunday

Did you know...

St. Patrick is built on five pillars: Liturgy, Hospitality, Formation, Stewardship, and Social Justice.

Stewardship is rooted in gratitude.

It is a way of living one's life, based in one's sense of radical gratitude to God, creator of all things. Out of the desire to demonstrate our thankfulness to God, we reach out in caring and loving ways to share the gifts we have been given with others. We live as stewards because we must. As St. Theresa of Avila notes, "Christ has no body now on earth but yours; no feet but yours. Yours are the eyes through which He is to go about doing good; yours are the hands with which He is to bless people now."

Traditionally stewardship has been thought of as giving of Time, Talent, and Treasure. At St. Patrick, stewardship is lived in a different way: the action of Giving, the action of Praying, and the action of Serving. Together, we call these "GPS." An electronic GPS helps navigate a journey toward a destination. In the same sense, the Stewardship GPS guides the Christian along the journey to God. Our website has a full Stewardship page with resources for Giving, Praying, and Serving.

BY ERIC TAMAYO, Coordinator of Liturgy

St. John Vianney:

A Shepherd After the Heart of Christ

On August 4, the Church celebrates the memorial of St. John Vianney, the patron saint of parish priests. Though he lived in a small village in France over 150 years ago, his witness continues to inspire priests and lay faithful alike. John Vianney was born in 1786 during the turmoil of the French Revolution, a time when the Church faced persecution. His path to the priesthood was not easy as he struggled academically, particularly with Latin, and many questioned whether he would ever become a priest. Yet his perseverance, deep humility, and unwavering love for God prevailed. Those who knew him recognized that holiness is measured not by intellectual ability but by a heart fully surrendered to Christ.

As pastor of the tiny village of Ars, St. John Vianney transformed his parish through prayer, preaching, and tireless pastoral care. He spent long hours before the Blessed Sacrament, urging his people to encounter Christ in the Eucharist. Above all, he became known for his dedication to the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Pilgrims traveled from across France to confess their sins to him, often waiting many hours for the opportunity. St. John would spend as many as sixteen hours a day in the confessional, patiently welcoming sinners with compassion while gently calling them to conversion. His life reminds us that God's mercy is always greater than our failures. In a world that often encourages us to hide our weaknesses or rely solely on ourselves, St. John Vianney points us toward the healing grace found in the sacraments and Christ. St. John understood that the confessional is not a place of shame but of freedom, where Christ restores us through His boundless mercy.

As we celebrate the feast of St. John Vianney this week, let us pray in a special way for all priests, that they may faithfully shepherd the people entrusted to their care with humility, courage, and love. May his example also inspire each of us to deepen our relationship with Christ through frequent reception of the Eucharist, regular Confession, and a life rooted in prayer. We are called to various vocations, but from married life to a religious vocation, we are all called to holiness. Let us follow the example of St. John's holiness and selfless service, so we too can become joyful witnesses of Christ's mercy in our families, our parish, and our community.

Stewardship

As we begin this new school year together, we are reminded of the miracle in today's gospel, where Jesus took five loaves and two fish, an offering that seemed far too small, and transformed it into an abundance that fed thousands. God has always delighted in creating abundance from what appears to be scarcity. He does not ask us to have everything; He simply asks us to place what we have in His hands. When we say "yes" to giving generously, praying faithfully, and serving joyfully, God multiplies our gifts in ways we could never imagine. Every act of kindness, every prayer offered, every hour of service, and every gift shared becomes part of His work of building His Kingdom. Each act of stewardship, whether a five-dollar bill in the collection or one-hour served gives opportunity for Christ to do extraordinary things through us, blessing not only our parish community but all those He calls us to love. As we begin this new school year, maybe your small gift of time could bless a child in Formation or the unhoused through Family Promise? How will God use you?

The Gift of Serving as a Volunteer Minister

"There are different kinds of spiritual gifts, but the same Spirit." - 1 Corinthians 12:4

Our parish GPS stewardship Giving Praying-Serving (GPS) theme reminds us that each of us has gifts to share, a presence that matters, and a role in building God's Kingdom. Volunteer service is one way we put our faith into action.

When we give our time and talents, we become more than helpers, we become companions, advocates, listeners, and witnesses to God's love. Whether we donate food to our weekly food collection bins to feed our neighbors in need, support a senior adult, welcome a newcomer, or advocating for justice, every contribution strengthens our parish and community.

The Social Justice and Outreach ministry invites you to prayfully consider:

What gifts has God given me, and where might God be calling me to share them?

Get involved: Your time, talents, and presence can make a difference. Find your place to serve and help us Pray. Encounter, Transform. To explore further, please contact Leah at SJO@stpatcc.org.

Nurses Corner

Rest: Make sure your children get enough of it.
Children need plenty of sleep under normal circumstances (nine hours per night is recommended) but especially during stressful times. To help your children sleep soundly, reduce their television & screen time and have them avoid caffeinated drinks late in the day. Quieter activities, like reading will help them wind down.

Emphasize your children's strengths.
You should encourage your children to use this strength in a positive way. Spending time with friends also helps to lessen stress.

Look to healthy outlets for stress.
Physical activity is not only an important component of physical health. It also can help children cope with mental stress. You can also encourage your children to listen to music or find hobbies that make them happy.

AXE their bad mood by getting outside.
Being outside can boost your children's mood. Taking a few extra minutes to spend time outdoors each day can make a big difference in your child's state of mind.
