First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

For many years, our parish has had the custom of having the names of parishioners' family members, loved ones, and friends mentioned at our weekend Masses. We pray for those who are ill and in need of healing. It is a great comfort to those who know they are being prayed for at Mass. We also pray for those who have recently died, as those who grieve can be comforted by offering prayers for their loved one.

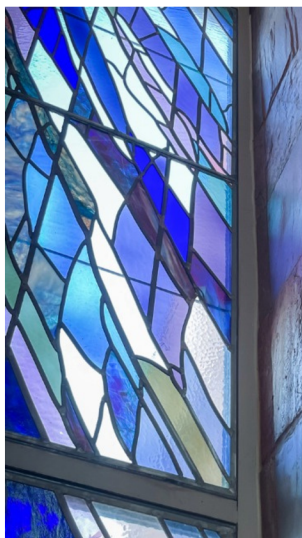

We suggest the best way to offer a name for prayer is by calling the Parish Office and requesting the name be mentioned at Masses, or by using our email address generalmail@stpatcc.org. Remember that getting permission from the family is important, as some people do not want their names announced for privacy reasons, and we want to honor that.

We offer another way to pray for those who have long-term illnesses or have an ongoing need for prayer by having our front desk staff member offer the name to our prayer group or email your prayer request to: weprayforyou@stpatcc.org, who pray every week for intentions. Also, placing the name in the offertory basket is another way to request prayer, as every Wednesday our parish staff offers all petitions up for prayer.

Please allow our staff to assist with your request for prayers, as we have a policy that helps protect the family's privacy as well as making sure the information is accurate.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Christian Disciples in Mission, Living Beyond Sunday

BY SUE ORLANDO, Parish Administrator

Did you know?

St. Patrick is built on five pillars: Liturgy, Hospitality, Formation, Stewardship, and Social Justice.

Hospitality

At St. Patrick we strive for radical hospitality. What does that mean? Well, quite simply, that all are welcome! It doesn't mean anything goes, it means relationship comes first so we can walk together. We have Ministers of Hospitality at every Mass and event. This even includes our Golf Cart Ministry!

"Hospitality is not to change people, but to offer them space where change can take place. It is not to bring men and women over to our side, but to offer freedom not disturbed by dividing lines. It is not to lead our neighbor into a corner where there are no alternatives left, but to open a wide spectrum of options for choice and commitment. It is not an educated intimidation with good books, good stories, and good works, but the liberation of fearful hearts so that words can find roots and bear ample fruit....The paradox of hospitality is that it wants to create emptiness, not a fearful emptiness, but a friendly emptiness where strangers can enter and discover themselves as created free.... not a subtle invitation to adopt the life style of the host, but the gift of a chance for the guest to find his own."

- Henri Nouwen

BY ERIC TAMAYO, Coordinator of Liturgy

Mary Magdalene:

Apostle to the Apostles

On July 22, the Church celebrates the Feast of St. Mary Magdalene. Although she is one of the most recognizable saints in Christian history, she is also one of the most misunderstood. Her story reminds us that from the very beginning, women played an indispensable role in the life and mission of the Church. The Gospels tell us that Jesus cast seven demons out of Mary Magdalene, following this encounter, she became one of his disciples, accompanying him during his public ministry. Her life reminds us that no one is beyond the transforming power of God's grace. One of the most common misconceptions about Mary Magdalene is that she was a prostitute. This misunderstanding developed over the centuries when several different women mentioned in the Gospels were mistakenly combined into one person. In 1969, the Church clarified the distinction in its liturgical calendar, affirming that Mary Magdalene is a separate figure from the unnamed sinful woman who anoints Jesus' feet and from Mary of Bethany, the sister of Martha and Lazarus.

Mary Magdalene's true significance lies not in a sinful past that Scripture never attributes to her, but in her extraordinary fidelity. While many of the disciples fled during Jesus' Passion, she remained at the foot of the Cross and was the first witness of the Resurrection. Christ entrusted her with the joyful mission of announcing His victory over death to the Apostles. For this reason, the Church has long honored her with the beautiful title, "Apostle to the Apostles." In 2016, Pope Francis elevated her memorial to the rank of a feast, placing her celebration on the same liturgical level as those of the Apostles. This recognition highlights the indispensable role she played in proclaiming the heart of the Christian faith, Christ is risen.

St. Mary Magdalene invites us to remain close to Christ in moments of sorrow and uncertainty, trusting that those who seek Him with faithful hearts will encounter the joy of the Resurrection. Her witness teaches us that authentic discipleship is marked by gratitude, perseverance, and the courage to proclaim the Good News. St. Mary Magdalene is a model of Christian discipleship and a powerful example of the vital contribution women have made to the Church from its very beginning.

Stewardship

One of the most powerful and often overlooked acts of stewardship is the gift of showing up for your own faith, and this year, we are inviting every adult at St. Patrick to say yes to formation. Our formation programs are not just classes or commitments on a calendar; they are living, breathing communities of people who are choosing to grow together, pray together, and become more fully who God created them to be. Whether you can give one hour a week or one morning a month, there is a place at the table for you: an age group, a program, and a community that is waiting for exactly the gifts and the heart that you carry. This is stewardship in its truest form, not just what we give financially, but how we invest ourselves in the mission and the people of this parish family. When you enter into formation, you are not just growing your own faith; you are serving the entire community by becoming a more rooted, more vibrant, more generous version of yourself, and that ripples out in ways you may never fully see. Please do not wait! Call the parish office today to find out how you can get involved, because St. Patrick needs you at the table, and this could be the year that changes everything.
