First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

The Gospel reading for Thanksgiving Day is traditionally from the Gospel of Luke Chapter 17, the healing of the 10 lepers. All 10 were made whole, yet only one came back to thank Jesus and he was a foreigner, a Samaritan. Jesus does ask, where are the other 9? The tradition was that when God touched one's life they were to go and give thanks to God and at the same time that act gave witness to others about the goodness of God.

Our Catholic Mass really is about giving witness to others about everything God has done for us. It is the core of why we gather at the table of the Lord. We are not to miss understanding that our thanking God gives witness to others about God's care of us. To have so many blessings and yet miss understanding that our presence at the Lord's table as often as possible is not to be taken lightly. Unfortunately, we Catholics hear it as scolding, making people sit through Mass, or that our presence is optional. All that is missing the mark.

As our country celebrates Thanksgiving Day this Thursday, we gather to be with loved ones and special people and we might even make a great effort to express all that we are thankful about. That is also what is central to us gathering at Mass, at the Lord's table. This Thursday, I invite as many people as possible to consider coming to our 9:00 am Mass. Another opportunity to give public witness to others about the generosity and goodness of God. (Come on, the Detroit Lions are on first and as good as they are, they still lost last year.) Before food and football, it would be great to gather together to offer thanks to God for every good thing.

Our Parish Staff wishes everyone a Happy Thanksgiving.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Christian Disciples in Mission Living Beyond Sunday

BY ERIC TAMAYO,
Pastoral Associate

A Reason to be Thankful

Thanksgiving is a special time of the year as we gather around a meal with family and friends and recall all the blessings we have received in our life. There is something special about sitting down and sharing a meal together. Food has always been something that brings people together. Sharing a meal is an opportunity for us to grow closer to one another. When you think about it, that is exactly what we do when we come to Mass. Mass is an opportunity for us to come together as a community so that we can all give thanks and grow closer to one another and to God. Even the word "Eucharist" is taken from the Greek, eukharistia, meaning thanksgiving.

Giving thanks is the reason why we gather every week at the celebration of the Mass. The Son who receives all he is from the Father gives thanks in the outpouring of his body and blood for us. Just like the Son, everything we receive comes from the Father and so we are called to give ourselves back to him in an outpouring of thanksgiving. In this way we are drawn into the life and mystery of God's love.

It is easy for us to take the things we have for granted. Just think about your own health. We usually don't think about it until something happens to us. In life we are often eager to take credit for our accomplishments, but in reality, everything we receive is a gift from God. Whenever you receive a gift from someone your natural response is to say thank you. In a similar way when we recall the blessings in our life we should make it a habit to give thanks to God for them. As Thanksgiving approaches, let us use it as an opportunity to grow in the habit of always giving thanks.

As children, our parents teach us to say thank you. It reminds us that what we receive is not because of something we deserve or are entitled to, but instead it is received as a gift from the generosity and love of another. It is important to give thanks because it reminds us of who we are in the eyes of God. We are his children. And just like any parent would want, hopefully we are children who say "thank you".
