First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

In our Catholic faith, we have special days to honor saints and important events in salvation history. Sunday, October 4 is the feast day of St. Francis of Assisi, and we have been encouraged by our Bishop to celebrate this feast day on that Sunday.

What many people know about St. Francis is his connection to the blessing of pets and animals. Even our St. Francis of Assisi statue on the parish grounds reminds us of his love for all of God's creation. The connection to blessing animals is that St. Francis praises God for the gift of all creation, to honor it and be grateful for what God has given to us. Animals and pets are included in this blessing and gift.

St. Francis reminds us to go even further: all human beings bear the image of God and are to be respected and honored for that gift from God. The beauty of honoring the spirituality of St. Francis this year in our parish is to be aware that he invites us to go further in our faith. He lived the Gospel with a radical love, meaning pushing us to go further in making the Gospel alive in our world.

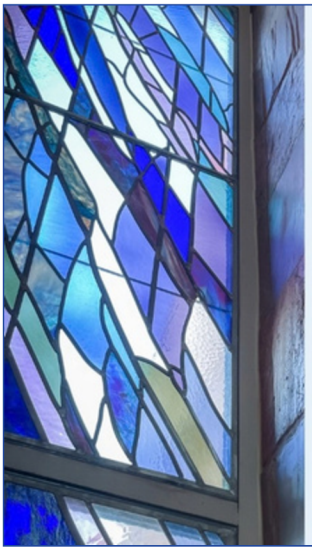

We gave away over 10,000 prayer cards of the prayer of St. Francis, and we have ordered more, and I truly believe that praying it every Sunday at Mass can transform our way of life if we are open to it. To be more aware of others instead of just ourselves, understanding others rather than just trying to be understood. That is the part of the prayer that always tugs at my heart: that it is not only about me and my feelings and thoughts. It challenges me to find myself by first serving others. Not an easy thing to understand until we pray about what that means.

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace. What a wonderful theme for our parish this year.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Franciscan Spirituality

When we think of St. Francis of Assisi, we often picture a man surrounded by birds and animals, celebrating the beauty of creation. Yet true Franciscan spirituality goes beyond a love of nature. At its heart is a simple invitation: to follow Christ with humility, joy, simplicity, and love. Born in Assisi in the late twelfth century, Francis experienced a profound conversion that changed the direction of his life. He gradually let go of wealth and privilege and embraced a life centered on the Gospel. He sought to imitate Jesus not simply in words, but through a life of poverty, service, compassion, and closeness to those who were poor and marginalized.

Franciscan spirituality begins with Christ at the center. Francis saw Jesus as the model for how Christians are called to live, with humility and self-giving love. His spirituality encourages us to discover God not only in prayer and worship, but also in the ordinary circumstances of daily life, such as in the beauty of creation.

Another important Franciscan value is simplicity. Francis recognized that possessions and status can easily become obstacles to true freedom. Simplicity does not necessarily mean poverty, rather, it means recognizing what truly matters and being grateful for God's gifts without allowing them to possess our hearts. Francis also had a deep sense of community. He called others "brother" and "sister," reminding us that every person has dignity because every person is loved by God. His famous love for creation flowed from the same conviction. The sun, moon, earth, animals, and all creation pointed him toward the goodness of their Creator.

Finally, Franciscan spirituality is marked by joy and peace. Even amid hardship, Francis trusted in God's goodness. His life reminds us that holiness is not reserved for extraordinary people or extraordinary moments. It can be found in small acts of kindness, humble service, gratitude, forgiveness, and care for others.

As we remember St. Francis this weekend, may we ask ourselves: Where is Christ inviting me to live more simply, love more generously, and walk more humbly? How is Christ calling me to be an instrument of peace?

Stewardship

Stewardship

Stewardship begins with the simple truth that everything we have comes from God and is meant to flow back to Him and to one another. When we give, whether it is our resources, our attention, or our very selves, we participate in the same generosity that first created and sustains us. Scripture reminds us that God loves a cheerful giver, and that giving freely is never a loss but a return to the abundance we were made for. In our parish, we frame this call through GPS, giving, praying, and serving, a simple way of naming stewardship that our community can carry into daily life. Giving is not only about what leaves our hands but about what happens in our hearts as we release our grip on what we think belongs to us alone. Each act of giving, however small, is a quiet echo of Christ's own self gift on the cross. We are so grateful for the continued giving at St. Patrick that enables us to repair roofs, air conditioners and other maintence to our buildings, to provide a place for worship and community.

To make a one-time or recurring gift, please go to stpatcc.org/give.

Catechesis of the Good Shepherd

Be sure to mark your calendars–CGS is on Fall Break, October 12-14. This week in the atrium, our Level I children are exploring the vestments worn by the priest and discovering the beauty and meaning of these signs in the liturgy. Our Level II children continue with the True Vine presentation, reflecting on Jesus and our life connected to Him.

The children are invited to notice the many ways the Church helps us enter more deeply into the mystery of God's love.
